RE: Chevron's Diversity Council 2009 2nd Quarter presentation:
Don Yaeger's "Characteristics of Greatness"

To Whom It May Concern:

I was assigned to facilitate Chevron's Diversity Council presentations for the Alaska area in which we hosted Don Yaeger as our speaker. I was not sure what to expect of Don since as I was not familiar with his works and accomplishments prior to his arrival. I was immediately impressed by Don's kind nature and outgoing personality. He was so sincerely interested in our state, people and history. I was surprised at how down to earth and genuine he was, even for somebody of his stature and prominence.

Don presented "Characteristics of Greatness", one in our field location in Kenai and 2 more at our Anchorage office in the same day. The subject was very appropriate for corporate America and was well received by all of our staff. Don's message was so thought provoking and touching that most attendees are still talking about the life changing application of the principles that he conveyed in his talk. Even with his long day, he managed to spend time to answer questions and meet with all the employees that stayed behind after each presentation.

Don is an outstanding speaker, somebody that is true to his words and has an amazing passion for people. I look forward to being involved in any event that he will be a part of and hope to work with him again in the near future.

Sincerely,
