Don's favorite quotes from this episode:

- Own what you've done wrong. That's the first step to growing and moving forward.
- Sometimes you will fail, but failure becomes something that has happened to you—not who you are.
- Football taught me to play to my strengths, master the essentials, and cultivate a winning attitude.

Reflection Questions:

What is one area of your life or business where you've been playing it safe because of fear, age, or public opinion?

What legacy are you building right now—not the one you hope for, but the one your daily actions are shaping?
